Dear Sir:

I love you magazine. Just purchased the Blizzard issue. I find it very hard to believe you did not receive some short story from Scotts Bluff County! I remember the storms that year even though I was only 11. I don't have any harrowing stories to relate, but we out in the Panhandle were affected too. I remember no bread or milk coming in to our small town. My Dad drove a Standard tank truck and was unable to reach his customers. This caused fuel problems for the whole area. Thing like that. Could you consider printing more stories of that awful time?

Thank you,
