

There was this 4 foot drift left on May 4th, 1949. Needless to say, we had a flooded basement for many weeks.

Scooping out the laying hens on January 16 after the night before storm.

Scooping snow off the roof of the house that was completely covered by the January 15, 1949 storm.